

We're enhancing the Pinkerton Academy experience for students and staff.

A Pinkerton education goes beyond standard academic instruction. By creating student-centered environments, teachers seek to provide opportunities that make tangible connections to curriculum. The 60+ clubs and organizations extend learning beyond the confines of a classroom as students make real world connections.

While not as visible as the construction of the turf fields, the academic portion of the campaign will provide important opportunities to enrich the experience of students and staff every day. The areas below highlight some of the ways the funds will benefit the Pinkerton community.

- Student Clubs and Activities
- Faculty and Staff Excellence
- Campus Improvements
- Student Counseling
- Technology Instruction

We invite you to join us

Through the efforts of the Board of Trustees and Headmaster, the first comprehensive Capital Campaign for Pinkerton Academy has already realized great support from alumni, parents, faculty and staff, friends and community partners. As a result of the initial fundraising efforts, we were recently able to unveil the new Memorial Athletic Turf Field to an excited group of supporters.

As we enter the public phase of the campaign, we are eager to engage even more advocates in our fundraising efforts, further supporting our students, faculty and staff.

To support the efforts of the campaign, please contact us at giving@pinkertonacademy.org.

The Capital Campaign for Pinkerton Academy

Pinkerton Academy is excited about a new chapter in its history.

The Open Space, Opening Minds Capital Campaign will include academic and athletic initiatives that will allow Pinkerton to continue to pursue the margin of excellence that has been integral to its 205-year history.

Rooted in 205 years of tradition, Pinkerton Academy takes pride in the history that has shaped our superb reputation. Our proven approach provides a foundation from which we continue to pursue the margin of excellence in the classroom and beyond. We support and challenge all students to grow in knowledge, skills, and confidence, further developing into contributing members of the greater community.

Rather than rest on our accomplishments, we continually strive to provide the best opportunities for our students. Our teachers employ technology that supports and enhances the curriculum, making meaningful connections beyond the confines of the classroom, and our coaches and advisers provide connections that create community and facilitate personal growth.

Supporting the campaign means supporting the vision the school has in educating the whole student—academically, socially, and emotionally. We hope you will join us and support the future of Pinkerton Academy.
